

Environmental Policy

Aim: It is the policy of Oden Services UK Ltd to provide a professional service focused on the requirements of our customers and to minimise our impact on the environment through environmentally sound business practices.

Oden Services UK Ltd offers a service to our customers focused on supply of IT equipment and parts, and IT Equipment lifecycle management including recycling of end of life equipment.

Environmental best practice is incorporated in our business practices, with particular emphasis on waste recycling. We have documented and implemented an environmental management system (EMS) meeting requirements of ISO 14001 which concentrates on minimising the significant environmental aspects of our activities. The EMS supports our commitment to continual improvement and prevention of pollution.

Our environmental objectives are focused on:

- Demonstrating compliance with legal and other relevant environmental requirements applicable to our business and our service including our recycling and waste management activities.
- A desire to extend the lifecycle of equipment through repair, refurbishment and parts supply activities.
- Minimising waste to landfill through application of the waste hierarchy i.e. Eliminate, Reduce, Reuse, Recycle.
- Reduction of energy consumption and resource use related to site activities.

In our business operation Oden Services UK Ltd is committed to continual improvement and we will work in conjunction with our staff and supply chain to ensure the requirements of this policy are fully implemented.
